Property and Estates

Rachel is a specialist property practitioner, with a particular emphasis on the law of landlord and tenant and residential property. Her work spans the breadth of residential and commercial, representing both landlords and tenants in the private and public sector.

Rachel provides advice, drafts pleadings, and offers strong advocacy skills in this area. She is experienced in dealing with a range of claims dealing with evictions, claims for non-protection of deposits, breaches of covenant, dilapidations, and anti-social behaviour.

Rachel's property practice includes the following areas:

- Disrepair claims (including advising on liability and quantum)
- Tenancies including those pursuant to Housing Act 1985, 1998
- Commercial leases including termination of Landlord and Tenant 1954 Act tenancies
- Claims relating to Tenant Fees Act 2019 and Housing Act 2004
- Adverse possession
- Trespass/ Nuisance claims (including floods).
- Easements/ Rights of Way

Chancery

Rachel is a specialist traditional chancery practitioner, with a growing practice in private client work. Rachel has experience in contentious probate and estate matters, including bringing and defending financial provision claims under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975, along with interim applications for the proper administration of estates often appearing in the High Court.

Further Rachel has particular expertise with TOLATA, proprietary estoppel, injunctive relief and other equitable claims. In particular, Rachel has had the following successes:

- Successful application to set aside secured charge on client's property on the basis of undue influence and lender's failure to make proper investigations.
- Negotiated settlement between high-net-worth cohabitantes, involving a factual disagreement as to whether sums given were a 'loan' or 'gift' high value.

3PB's Rachel Bale considers expectation vs reality in a recent Supreme Court judgment – Guest and another v Guest [2022] UKSC 27. The case discussed the correct approach in calculating the type and amount of equitable relief to be awarded where proprietary estoppel has been made out. This case involved a family dispute over, Tump Farm, a working dairy farm which has been owned by the Guest family since 1938. An interesting aspect of this case is that the court had to consider how to deal with promises of future inheritance where the promisor is still alive. As is often the case with familial issues, the solution is not necessarily clear-cut...
