Court of Protection

Scott Sharp is developing a good and frequent Court of Protection caseload.

He has an excellent reputation for being able to manage and assist vulnerable clients well. Scott sits on the Bar Council's Disability Panel and draws on his own experiences of growing up with, and still having, a significant disability.

His understanding and empathic approach to individuals when they need support aligns also with the ethos and principles of Court of Protection work.

Recommendations

"Mr Sharp's advice showed wisdom beyond his call. He is hardworking and a credit to Chambers."

Professional Client

"I just wanted to say that Scott's support and performance was outstanding. He was professional in every sense. From the moment he introduced himself to the final words afterwards. He delivered the message to the judge extremely well even stressing and explaining points well. He was fair and not aggressive in any sense and I definitely felt he was an asset for our case. He set the potential expectations before the hearing and the end results were exactly what he advised."
