

Ségolène Lapeyre

Year of Call: 2019

Email Address: segolene.lapeyre@3pb.co.uk

Telephone: 020 7583 8055

Overview

Ségolène is on parental leave and is currently not accepting instructions. As permitted by the Bar Council, she has temporarily suspended her practicing certificate until her return to Chambers.

Prior to taking leave, Ségolène's practice comprised all areas of private family law, with a particular focus on financial remedies and private law children proceedings. She was also regularly instructed in applications under the Family Law Act 1996.

Recommendations

"Ségolène was instructed on a complex children's matter. I was extremely pleased with her professionalism and approach on the case. She provided cogent advice to my client. No stone was unturned and her dedication to the case was first class. The client was ecstatic with the result, and with Ségolène's client care and depth of knowledge to her case. She is a fearless advocate. She has excellent attention to detail and is brilliant on her feet. Ségolène is definitely a rising star in the profession of Family Advocates." – Solicitor

"We have been very impressed by Ségolène's work ethic. She is prompt, grasps information well and has a great intellect for challenging issues. She is no doubt an impressive advocate who has been valued by every client we have given her."

Partner, Family Law Solicitors

Academic qualifications

- LLB Law (First Class), The London School of Economics
- MSc Refugee and Forced Migration Studies, University of Oxford
- BA Middle Eastern Studies (First Class), McGill University (Montréal, Canada)
- BPTC (Very Competent), BPP University, London

Scholarships

- Prince of Wales Scholar, Gray's Inn (BPTC)
- Excellence Award, BPP University (BPTC)
- Various examination prizes (LSE)

Professional bodies

- Family Law Bar Association
- Gray's Inn