

Jane Foulser McFarlane

Year of Call: 1994

Email Address: jane.foulser@3pb.co.uk

Personal Injury

Jane advises and represents both claimant and defendant clients on a broad range of issues including:

- Catastrophic injury
- Asbestosis/ industrial disease
- Employer's liability
- Occupiers and public liability
- Road traffic claims including motorcycle accidents
- Highway claims

Jane has represented a number of clients in personal injury actions arising out of hit and run incidents and is known for being an approachable and pragmatic advocate.

Reported cases

- Aquilina v Aquilina [2004] EWCA 504
- David Lewin v Stephen Harvey [2010] Lawtel AM0201691 – Representing the Claimant, who was awarded £31,000 for the loss of taste and smell.

Academic qualifications

- LLB (Hons); University of Wales, Cardiff (1991)
- LLM (International commercial and maritime law, with emphasis on international intellectual property law) (1992)
- Currently studying for a PhD in intellectual property law on a part time basis at Exeter University.

Professional bodies

- Intellectual Property Bar Association
- International Association for the Protection of Intellectual Property (AIPPI UK)
- Personal Injury Bar Association (PIBA)