

Jennifer Agyekum

Year of Call: 2009

Email Address: jennifer.agyekum@3pb.co.uk

Telephone: 020 7583 8055

Public and Regulatory

Jennifer is a professional disciplinary and healthcare specialist. She regularly appears before the various disciplinary tribunals including the Nursing and Midwifery Council, General Dental Council, General Pharmaceutical Council, Health Care Professions Council and the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants.

As well as appearing in court Jennifer frequently delivers seminars, lectures and training within this specialist area. She has also taken part in stakeholder events and discussions in relation to proposed changes to the law in this area.

Jennifer's practice includes representing clients in the following areas:

- Misconduct and competence cases
- Health cases
- Registration appeals
- Restoration appeals
- Fraudulent/ incorrect entry appeals
- Substantive order reviews
- Interim order hearings
- Application hearings
- Inquests
- Disclosure & Barring Service

Notable cases

GDC v RY [2018] Jennifer represented a dentist facing charges including dishonesty related to plagiarism in a course connected to his dentistry practice. After hearing persuasive submissions by Jennifer, the panel imposed a caution order.

NMC v CW & Others [2017] Jennifer represented one of six nurses in a high profile four-week hearing. In the years preceding the regulatory proceedings there had been an inquest and civil proceedings. This case involved the death of a patient after he had been admitted to a ward with what had been diagnosed as back pain. The nurse that Jennifer was representing faced five charges ranging from failing to check patient records and escalate his condition to inadequacies in the administration of medication. After hearing four weeks of evidence, Jennifer persuaded the panel to impose the least restrictive of sanctions solely based on public interest grounds.

FM v NMC [2017] Jennifer successfully represented a nurse who had been refused re-registration due to alleged ongoing health concerns. After a one-day hearing and careful cross examination of the NMC's expert witness, the nurse was restored to the register.

NMC v AL [2017] Jennifer acted for a nurse in this dual handed case concerning multiple charges relating to alleged poor care of a patient's catheter. Jennifer made successful submissions of no case to answer in relation to some of the charges and then successful submissions resulting in findings of no misconduct for the remainder of the charges.

NMC v SA [2016] Jennifer defended a nurse in this high profile case involving a nurse working for an NHS Trust for over 17 years without a work permit. This case involved 12 charges, some of which alleged dishonesty regarding the non-disclosure of her work status and her interaction with colleagues.

The case, on the face of it, should have attracted a striking off order. However, Jennifer managed to persuade the panel to impose a 6 months suspension order.

NMC v ES [2016] Jennifer represented a nurse in this technically complex case concerning a Cardiac Services Team Leader. Jennifer successfully made an application of no case to answer in relation to several charges including a "contribution to death" charge. After which the only charges that remained were the charges which had been admitted by the registrant. Jennifer then went on to make submissions resulting in findings of no misconduct for the remainder of the charges.

NMC v Yeboah [2016] Jennifer represented a nurse charged with dishonesty and working excessive hours. Jennifer secured the least restrictive of sanctions, a caution order, after a 3-day hearing.

JS v NMC [2016] Jennifer successfully represented a registrant who had been denied registration due to historic convictions, some of which included offences involving dishonesty.

Publications

Oh my Ghosh!

Just when you thought there was no need to attend another seminar regarding dishonesty in regulatory proceedings and then comes along Ivey (Appellant) v Genting Casino (UK) Ltd t/a Crockfords (Respondent) [2017] UKSC 67. Please click below to read 3PB barrister Jennifer Agyekum's analysis.

View Publication

Recommendations

'A fearless and highly intelligent advocate.'

Legal 500 2020/Leading Individual – Education

Professional bodies

- Association of Regulatory & Disciplinary Lawyers
- Bar Pro Bono Unit